

France

Where is France?

France is a country in the continent of Europe which is bordered by six other countries. They are Germany, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Italy, Belgium and Spain. You can travel to France on a plane, boat or on a train through the Eurotunnel.

Climate

Like most of Europe, France is north of the tropical zones therefore it has a mixed climate. In many parts of the country, it is typically mild and pleasant. Most of the time, summers are warm, and winters are not too cold. The hottest months of year to visit France are July and August as temperatures can be as high as 30 degrees. As well as sunny days, France also has rainy days, especially in the spring and autumn. Lots of rain falls in December, but it can be very rainy in May and July too.

Why visit France?

France is a fun place to visit because there are so many exciting things to see and do! Most people go to Paris to see the Eiffel Tower, but there is plenty to do across the country. When you visit France, you can also enjoy tasty food like croissants and cheese. Many tourists visit famous places like the beaches in the south and the castles in the countryside. As well as seeing these amazing sights, you can meet friendly people living in the beautiful villages of Colmar and Arles.

France's capital city

The capital city of France is Paris which is a fantastic city with many famous landmarks! The majority of people visit the Eiffel Tower because of its famous history. When you are in Paris, you can also see the Arc de Triomphe, or you can explore Notre Dame Cathedral. Before you leave, make sure to visit the Louvre Museum, where you can see the Mona Lisa. After seeing all these amazing places, you can relax by the River Seine. While you are there, you might enjoy a boat ride. Paris is exciting all the time, so you will have a great adventure!

Fun facts:

- The Paris Metro is the world's first underground train system.
- France is famous for fashion.
- The hot air balloon was invented in France!